

Questions
/Answers
/Tips

Product
Database
Transfer

I am switching the program to a new computer, how can I transfer project files and product database over so I don't have to re-enter them again?

- To move project files: copy project files under My Documents/My FEP Project (or any other project directories) to the new computer
- To move product database (for Window XP): copy the system database file named fepMaterial.mdb (it is normally under C:\Documents and Settings\your account\Application Data\FEP), to the new computer, and put it under the same directory.
- To move product database (for Window Vista): copy the system database file named fepMaterial.mdb (it is normally under C:\Users\your account\AppData\Roaming\FEP), to the new computer, and put it under the same directory. You may need to enter AppData\Roaming\FEP path name as it may be invisible at normal mode.